

The Franca Fund at the Genomes2People Research Program Donation Guidelines

Thank you for supporting The Franca Sozzani Fund for Preventive Genomics through a tax-deductible donation to the Genomes2People Research Program at Brigham and Women's Hospital (Tax exemption # 04-2312909). The Franca Fund was established by photographer/filmmaker Francesco Carrozzini, recording artist/investor D.A. Wallach and Dr. Robert C. Green, Professor of Medicine (Genetics) at Harvard Medical School and the Broad Institute. The Fund honors Francesco's mother, the late Franca Sozzani, who was Editor in Chief of Italian Vogue for 28 years. Inspired by her immense creativity and ways in which she innovated within the fashion world, we are working to transform healthcare from reactive to proactive with the goal of not just treating illness but preventing it altogether. The Franca Fund supports DNA testing in underrepresented minorities and has already been critical to the establishment of the Brigham Preventive Genomics Clinic, the first academic clinic to offer comprehensive genome sequencing in a medical context for both adults and children. Your contribution will enable us to pursue projects that are more creative and daring than those we can support through conventional grant funding, and will support the training of future healthcare providers and scientists whom we are mentoring.
